2.4 Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

It is important for a student's effort and credit to be recognized through class assessment. Credits earned for a student work due to efforts done by others are clearly unfair. Deliberate dishonesty is considered academic misconducts, which include plagiarism; cheating on assignments or examinations; engaging in unauthorized collaboration on academic work; taking, acquiring, or using test materials without faculty permission; submitting false or incomplete records of academic achievement; acting alone or in cooperation with another to falsify records or to obtain dishonestly grades, honors, awards, or professional endorsement; or altering, forging, or misusing a University academic record; or fabricating or falsifying of data, research procedures, or data analysis.

All assessments are subject to academic misconduct check. Misconduct check may include reproducing the assessment, providing a copy to another member of faculty, and/or communicate a copy of this assignment to the PHBS Discipline Committee. A suspected plagiarized document/assignment submitted to a plagiarism checking service may be kept in its database for future reference purpose.

Where violation is suspected, penalties will be implemented. The penalties for academic misconduct may include: deduction of honour points, a mark of zero on the assessment, a fail grade for the whole course, and reference of the matter to the Peking University Registrar.

For more information of plagiarism, please refer to PHBS Student Handbook.

3. Topics, Teaching and Assessment Schedule

Class Participation

Class participation is an important part of marketing courses. The learning experience of this course depends on your participation. I expect you to have read the assigned materials prior to class. Your goal should be to prepare consistently for the class, and to participate appropriately in the variety of activities in the course – lecture, discussions, group exercises, etc. It is important for your classmates, and me, to know who you are. Be sure to bring your desk name card with you.

Class will begin promptly at the time it is supposed to start. Please come to class on time and make sure you give yourself enough time to settle down. Remember, if you are not in class, you may miss your opportunity to participate, and this can lead to negative repercussions on your class participation & discussion grade. Please note that grades will be reduced for students exhibiting repeated and/or unexcused absenteeism.

Whenever you know in advance that you will be absent, please let me know. If you miss class due to a pressing emergency, please provide me with the necessary documentation to excuse your absence. If you need to leave early for something that is an extremely unusual and unavoidable situation, you should explain your reason for leaving early to the professor ahead of time, and should sit near the door so your departure is not a distraction for others.

In addition to two long cases, several brief cases and articles will be discussed in class. The frequency as well as quality of your questions/comments during discussion will be reflected in the participation & discussion grade.

If you take the class online, please submit a separate discussion note about the brief cases and articles within 3 days. Please submit your discussion note to the TA via email.

Case Analyses

There will be two long cases. For each case, you will submit one-page report that includes your answers to suggested questions in the previous class (i.e., Dec. 10th & Dec. 28th) of case discussion dates. Please write your answers to all of the suggested questions and write them in complete sentences and paragraphs (no bullet points). You can add an appendix to include references, tables, and/or figures. You should submit a hard copy to the instructor/TA before the class begins. Late submission is not accepted.

You will also work in a group to write a written document (pptx/word) and/or to orally present your team's suggestions in class. The frequency as well as quality of your questions/comments during case discussion will be reflected in your case discussion grade.

If you take the class online, you need to submit a comprehensive written document for each case to address the questions that your classmates work either individually or in a group. Please share your thoughts and comments on the cases with the instructor to learn most from the cases.

Group Project

You will work on a group project in this class. The group project consists of two written documents (each document should be less than 10 pages) and one presentation. You should choose a company and analyse its internal and external environments in the first written document (due on Dec. 21st Tuesday). You should propose marketing strategies for the company in the second written document (due on Jan. 14th Friday). In Week 9, you will present your analyses on the company and marketing proposals. Each team will have 15 minutes for presentation. Each team will submit a report to indicate the tasks that each team member has accomplished, along with their second written document on Jan. 14th.

Given the difficulty of group work, you will work on a shorter project on your own if you take the class online.

Exam

It is important to understand basic concepts. There will be a final exam. The exam is closed-book and will consist of multiple-choice questions and short essay questions. The exam will include material covered in the class (including cases) as well as in the required assigned readings (e.g., textbook, articles). Final exam is scheduled on Jan. 21st or 22nd. Due to the nature of the exam and class, there won't be a make-up exam. Please avoid any time conflicts (e.g., travel schedule or conflict with other courses/exams). The location will be announced later. The students who are taking the class online will take the final exam online. Detailed arrangements and regulations will be announced in Week 9.

4. Miscellaneous (BUT IMPORTANT)

NO LATE WORK WILL BE ACCEPTED

No late work will be accepted. Late work is defined as any work not turned in when it is collected at the beginning of class on the day it is due. No extra credit work will be allowed since it unfairly gives opportunity to some, but not all, students. Problems arise in life. I understand that. However, you are responsible for reconciling all issues that could adversely affect your (or your group's) grade promptly and professionally. This includes communicating with all affected parties, and doing so in a timely manner. It also includes sparing these parties from dishonesty, laziness, procrastination, or other unacceptable excuses for a lack of performance on your part.

CLASS ROOM POLICIES

Do not use devices such as cell phones and laptops. Please remember that we have a strict academic dishonesty program here. For example, you need to be careful not to plagiarize from other sources. Failure to adhere to these policies will result in a failing grade.

SPECIAL ACCOMMODATIONS

If you have any condition, such as a physical or learning disability, which will make it difficult for you to carry out the work as outlined, or which will require academic accommodations, please notify me during the first week of the course so that you are appropriately accommodated.

Grading Policy

Following the grading policy of PHBS, grades should be awarded in letter grades (e.g., A+, A,... D, D-, F). Percentage of the distribution of each letter grade is limited and strictly followed by the school's grading policy. Once the final grades are determined, no changes will be made unless there are errors.

NOTE

The information in this syllabus is subject to change, and any changes made to this syllabus will be announced in the class.
